

KIDNAPING SUSPECTS CAPTURED

Police Chief Refuses to Disclose Revelations;
Expresses Hope

SAY PLANE USED

"Eastern" Gangsters
Hinted in Plans

DENVER, Feb. 15.—Two men were arrested early today as suspects in the kidnaping of Charles Boettcher II, broker and clubman, and Chief of Police A. T. Clark predicted the apprehension soon of four or five others.

He declared he is following the trail which he announced yesterday he expected would lead to a solution of the mystery and return within 48 hours of the kidnap victim, whose abductors demand a ransom of $60,000.

Those held for investigation were N. W. Mitchell and George Zarlingo, both of Denver. Both have records as bootleggers.

ANSWERS SECRET

Chief Clark questioned Mitchell, a good-looking, blond young man, for more than four hours early today, but would not reveal what Mitchell's responses, or his own line of questioning, were.

The chief admitted, however, that he was working on the theory that the sensational kidnaping was engineered by a master criminal from an eastern city—Chicago or Kansas City—who had the aid of local underworld characters. He said he expected to have other suspects in custody some time during the day.

Clark declared that, in his opinion, Boettcher is held captive either in Denver, or close by.

AIRPLANE HUNTED

A new and dramatic phase of the abduction developed today in investigation of reports that Boettcher was taken from the city within half an hour of his kidnaping in a fast airplane. Police Chief Clark admitted he was "going into" this angle thoroughly, but said he had no information that would substantiate the report.

Police admitted that the kidnapers, by working swiftly, might have been able to spirit Boettcher away in an airplane. Investigation was being made of airplane tracks, believed to have been freshly made at the abandoned Alexander airport in the southern end of the city, about two miles from the Charles Boettcher home.

Police attached little significance to a report that the Boettcher kidnaping had sent a mysterious message to Oscar Malo, also a wealthy and prominent Denver broker. The note attempted to extort money from Malo on a threat of kidnaping.

Chief Clark dismissed it as work of a crank, although he posted a police guard at the Malo home, only a few blocks from the Boettcher residence, in one of the exclusive sections of the city. Clark said he believed some crank, incited by the Boettcher abduction, was responsible for the Malo note.

The Boettcher kidnaping, like a black cloud, cast its shadow on social, business and professional life in the city, with two days passing without definite trace of the abductors.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Two men were detained by Chicago police today for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Boettcher II, wealthy young Denver broker.

They are Ben Miyake, a political worker and employee of the forest preserve, and Frank J. Sullivan, a prize fight promoter. Sullivan was taken to the detective bureau for questioning after a telephone call from the Brown Palace Hotel in Denver on the day of the kidnaping had been traced to suburban Cicero.

SYNDICALISM LAW IN OHIO TO STAND

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15.—Ohio's criminal syndicalism law is destined to remain on the statute books of the state for another two years at least, it appeared today. The Pringle bill, which sought to repeal the act, was killed by the judiciary committee of the state house of representatives last night by a vote of 8 to 4. The committee's action was in response to a motion by Rep. John S. Pettit (R) of Bellefontaine, a member of the committee, that action on the measure be indefinitely postponed.

Once before efforts to repeal the law proved ineffectual. At the last regular session of the state legislature two years ago an attempt to repeal the act was decisively defeated.

Legionnaires Ready For Street Cleaning Tonight

Members of Betts' Team to Report at Memorial
Hall at 7 p. m.

BEGIN WORK AT 7:30

Losers Expected to be
"Sports," Appear

The stage is set for the "street cleaning" appearance of William Betts Jr., and his crew of 50 Legionnaires. This outfit, loser in a membership contest with Reed Shafer's team, will don proper clothing, obtain shovels and brooms and proceed to clean Court-st from Franklin to Main this evening.

The street cleaning is to begin at 7:30 p. m. with all members of Betts' team to report at Memorial Hall 30 minutes earlier to make necessary arrangements.

COBB, SEITZ, TO AID

Not only will the members of the losing team take part but Sam Cobb, of Columbus, state membership chairman, and Lester Seitz, Howard Hall post membership chairman, who originated the street cleaning idea, will take part with the "white caps."

Necessary equipment will be made available by the city service department.

The plan is a "publicity stunt" for the Legion and will be highly successful if all members of the losing team report for duty. A fine of $1 will be placed against each "shirker" but the "Bronx" cheers given by his buddies will be worse than the fine.

CROWD TO BE PRESENT
It is expected a large crowd of spectators will be on hand to watch the Legionnaires at work.

WHITE WINS OVER MYERS

May Transfer Vehicle Department; House Committee In Favor.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15.—Forces of Governor George White today claimed the first round of the Democratic "family fight" over transfer of the bureau of motor vehicles from the secretary of state to the state highway department. The governor's supporters won the opening skirmish in the house of representatives last night even though Former Governor Vic Donahey sided against White and allied himself with Secretary of State George S. Myers, a bitter foe of the governor's.

By a vote of 8 to 2, the house committee on motor vehicles recommended for passage the McNamee bill, establishing a state highway patrol of 60 men to enforce traffic laws.

Donahey, in a written statement, joined the bitter protest by Myers that a change of the bureau to the highway department might only take political machinery away from Myers and give it to the governor.

"I can discover no additional governmental efficiency or economy if this change is made," said Donahey. "In these proposed measures the sky is the limit for the director to appoint a lot of employees and designate their compensation."

Saved Passengers in Air Fire

The quick thinking, high courage and superb airmanship of Eddie Bellande (left) and his co-pilot, Lynn Berkenkamp (both above), averted what might have been an aerial holocaust when the passenger liner they were flying from San Francisco to Los Angeles burst into flames near Bakersfield, Cal. Bellande stuck to his post at the stick and brought the plane safely to earth while Berkenkamp fought the flames. No sooner had the last passenger been removed unscathed from the plane than the wing gasoline tanks exploded.

OFFICERS HELP IN KILLER'S CAPTURE

Warney Collingsworth, 45,
Caught on Madison-Co
Farm Tuesday.

TAKEN TO KENTUCKY
Radcliff, Davis Were With State Officers.

Local officers, Tuesday afternoon, assisted in the capture of an alleged Kentucky murderer on the farm of Leonard Wheeler in Madison-co. As a result of the capture Warney Collingsworth, 45, of Boyd-co, Kentucky, was in the county jail at Ashland today awaiting trial for the wilful murder of another Kentuckian.

Collingsworth was arrested without offering resistance while he was grinding corn on the Wheeler farm. Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and Prosecuting Attorney Ray W. Davis accompanied Charles Keaton, Boyd-co, patrolman, and George Nichols, of Ashland, Boyd-co, investigator, in making the arrest.

REPORTED IN MONROE

The four men went first to Monroe-twp, this county, where it was reported Collingsworth was working on a farm. No trace was found of him there but a clue that he might be in Madison-co was unearthed. He was placed under arrest without any trouble when he was located on the Wheeler farm.

Collingsworth is charged with killing a man, whose name was not learned by local officers, by striking him on the head with a club in a "bootleg" war just a year ago. The man is asserted to have thrown the body of the slain man in a river where it was later found.

FLED INTO OHIO

He fled Kentucky and after investigation Kentucky officials learned he had fled to central Ohio. On a tip they came to this county.

Collingsworth waived extradition and was taken immediately to Boyd-co by the Kentucky authorities.

Wilful murder in Kentucky is the same as first degree murder in Ohio.

McCrystal (D) of Sandusky, 23-year-old wet leader, uttered that statement of disappointment yesterday when his resolution, to submit state prohibition repeal to the voters, was defeated in the lower house.

"All through the campaign they shouted, 'Let the people decide,'" said McCrystal, "but when they get down here they get scared, or forget, or break faith. It's only a matter of time till we'll be rid of prohibition anyhow."

McCrystal Rallies Forces
in Effort to Pass Hunter Measure

LOSS THOT CERTAIN

All House Wet Bills Appears Doomed

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15.—In a quick gamble to save their movement from utter collapse, following a crushing defeat yesterday on state prohibition repeal, wets of the Ohio House of Representatives pulled themselves together today for an immediate vote this afternoon on the Hunter bill to abolish the state prohibition department.

Beaten by 13 votes yesterday on the McCrystal resolution to submit state prohibition repeal to the voters next November, they

BOHNERT VOTES "WET"

Nathan Bohnert, Pickaway-co's representative, voted in favor of the McCrystal bill Tuesday asking for submission of the prohibition issue to the people. Bohnert is chairman of the House temperance committee.

Rev. Harry Welch, Hackburg representative and former local man, voted against re-submission.

Some time today with the threat of having all wet legislation indefinitely shelved, pending Congressional action, unless they can immediately score some kind of a victory.

SOME DISCOURAGED

Rep. John F. McCrystal (D), of Sandusky, 23-year-old chief of the wet forces, tried to appear courageous in the face of yesterday's defeat, and announced that attempts will be made to gain reconsideration of the measure but other wets were not so optimistic.

The Hunter bill's chances were believed to be slight, as it is a strict wet-and-dry bill with the threat of Governor George White's veto hanging over it. The McCrystal resolution, however, merely assured voters the right to express approval or disapproval of the state prohibition amendment, and was not opposed by the governor.

Yet the unexpected result was: For the resolution, 68; against the resolution, 62. A total of 81 votes was necessary for adoption.

Wet leaders agreed that if yesterday's vote is a fair test, then it is apparent that most wet bills are doomed and may be forgotten, both by the house and the senate, until after Congress acts.

PARTY LINES BROKEN

Although party lines were not followed, 56 Democrats voted for the resolution, many on the ground that they were following the Democratic platform. Twelve Republicans also voted yes. The negative votes were divided between 37 Republicans and 25 Democrats.

As a necessary strategy to make it possible to ask for reconsideration, Rep. W. J. Zouli (D), of Cleveland, changed his vote to no after having voted in the affirmative.

STARKEYS WIN AS SHOP ROVERS LOSE

Local Cagers Come From Behind In Exciting Game, Tuesday.

Starkey Dry Cleaners, local entrants in the Pickaway-co Independent League, Tuesday night jumped into a second place tie with the Williams Grocers by annexing another game over the Commercial Point A. C. by the score of 30 to 41.

Coming back to the second half the local five shattered a big lead and made one for themselves to hold down the Commercial crew and get a hard earned victory.

The local outfit was in plenty hot water at the end of the second canto when they were trailing the Commercial quintet by a score of 27 to 18 and the outlook was not so bright, with Rudy Gordon being forced to the bench with an ankle injury.

THIRD PERIOD HOT

However in the third session the local five went on a scoring spree that had the Commercial lads completely bewildered and by fast of quick time to reverse the positions and let the Commercial team do the worrying.

The last canto was much the same with Merriman and Zeimer getting hot and dropping them through the hoop in rapid fire time. After getting nearly a 10 point lead the locals dropped into a tight defensive that thwarted any chance of the Commercial outfit of making a last desperate rally.

B. Rush and W. Thraikill of the Commercial five were barred from the game by the way of the personal foul rule while the local team did not lose a man by the method.

MERRIMAN HIGH

Eve Merriman led the local scoring with 14 counters while B. Rush and H. Thraikill were high scorers for Commercial with 11 points each.

The second game on Tuesday's card saw the New Holland Kirks emerge the winners over the Shop Rovers and tie up with the latter quintet for the league leadership.

The score of the contest was 20 to 15.

The entire game was a thriller with neither team having more than a two point advantage through out the game until the final minute of play when J. Vincent dropped two field goals through the hoop in rapid succession to insure his team a victory.

The Walnut Tigers seem forever doomed to remain in the lost column for last night they dropped their 11th consecutive game and this time to the William Grocers crew by a score of 58 to 28.

This game which was the first on the bill was a listless affair and too one sided to be in the least bit interesting.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Walter Beck, expected to bolster the Brooklyn Dodgers pitching staff, sent in his signed contract today. Beck pitched for Memphis last season and won 27 games and lost six, the best record of any minor league hurler.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church will have its regular meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 23.

Mrs. Fred Hines entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the M. E. church Thursday evening at her home.

The large table has two drop leaves; the small table in front of the windows may be opened out to serve for a breakfast table, and a third small table near the door serves as a place to put the coffee tray or some other necessary part of the equipment. A fourth piece, which is a three drawer chest, opposite the dresser, would act as a buffet; but this additional piece is not necessary for a dining room of this simple type.

The walls are of yellow tinted plaster, and the woodwork of pine slightly stained to look like maple, and thus match the furniture. The glass curtains are of ruffled dotted Swiss, and the drapery of glazed chintz of brown ground having yellow and green clusters of flowers on it. These draperies are looped back in cuffs of the same material.

The rug is a modern braided rag rug, admirably suited to a room furnished in Early American style. Small hooked rugs in the same colors—browns, tans and dark green—are laid at the two ends of the room.

On the Table To carry out the simple and effective scheme, the table is laid for luncheon with a runner of course crash linen, which looks like homespun. The napkins match; the china is of rather heavy Wedgwood in cream color, with a little landscape pattern in the center. The colors of this decoration are yellow and green.

Pale yellow glassware of rather course type (tumbler, not stemware) is used with this china; and pewter salt and pepper shaker and a pewter bowl for flowers or fruit.

For dinner the cloth is also simple, but it is in pale yellow, and not so coarse. The large (dinner size) napkins are yellow crash. The same plates are used and a more delicate glassware of crystal, a copy of old Waterford glass. Silver salt and pepper shaker are used, silver candlesticks and a silver coffee service.

All table wares, like the furniture, are the products of modern manufacturers who have faithfully reproduced the equipment used in Colonial days. Such wares are on sale everywhere in the country so that those of us who like the Colonial style, may have it, at little cost, and with a great deal of satisfaction to both family and guests.

THE ugly furniture was not so much our fault as the fault of the manufacturers of a generation ago. Today these same manufacturers have recognized a country-wide demand for more beauty in the home and the furniture they are offering us is simple, graceful, practical and well built. It follows the fine old styles which the first settlers in this country used, and which our English ancestors demanded for their homes.

The Early American style, especially well suited to suburban and country homes and simple little houses everywhere, is made of pine and maple. And the modern manufacturers who are reproducing these pieces used by our settler ancestors, are copying them in every detail. Many of the chairs are hand made and hand finished. The wood of cabinets, tables, stools and other pieces is rubbed with care until it looks like the fine old maple of Colonial days.

Well Suited to Dining Room Illustrated in a dining room furnished with such reproductions. The wood is maple rubbed and polished to a beautiful amber finish. Two styles of chairs are used; the comb-back armchair shown at the table, and the ladder-back chairs shown against the wall. All chairs in the room have rush (or straw) seats.

The dressers at the left is copied from an old New England piece and its wide shelf serves for buffet, while the drawers hold linen, silver and other supplies. Pewter and china and the family silver may be nicely displayed here.

The large table has two drop leaves; the small table in front of the windows may be opened out to serve for a breakfast table, and a third small table near the door serves as a place to put the coffee tray or some other necessary part of the equipment. A fourth piece, which is a three drawer chest, opposite the dresser, would act as a buffet; but this additional piece is not necessary for a dining room of this simple type.

The walls are of yellow tinted plaster, and the woodwork of pine slightly stained to look like maple, and thus match the furniture. The glass curtains are of ruffled dotted Swiss, and the drapery of glazed chintz of brown ground having yellow and green clusters of flowers on it. These draperies are looped back in cuffs of the same material.

The rug is a modern braided rag rug, admirably suited to a room furnished in Early American style. Small hooked rugs in the same colors—browns, tans and dark green—are laid at the two ends of the room.

On the Table To carry out the simple and effective scheme, the table is laid for luncheon with a runner of course crash linen, which looks like homespun. The napkins match; the china is of rather heavy Wedgwood in cream color, with a little landscape pattern in the center. The colors of this decoration are yellow and green.

Pale yellow glassware of rather course type (tumbler, not stemware) is used with this china; and pewter salt and pepper shaker and a pewter bowl for flowers or fruit.

For dinner the cloth is also simple, but it is in pale yellow, and not so coarse. The large (dinner size) napkins are yellow crash. The same plates are used and a more delicate glassware of crystal, a copy of old Waterford glass. Silver salt and pepper shaker are used, silver candlesticks and a silver coffee service.

All table wares, like the furniture, are the products of modern manufacturers who have faithfully reproduced the equipment used in Colonial days. Such wares are on sale everywhere in the country so that those of us who like the Colonial style, may have it, at little cost, and with a great deal of satisfaction to both family and guests.

THE ugly furniture was not so much our fault as the fault of the manufacturers of a generation ago. Today these same manufacturers have recognized a country-wide demand for more beauty in the home and the furniture they are offering us is simple, graceful, practical and well built. A RESTFUL DINING ROOM AIDS IN GOOD DIGESTION

Pleasing Colors, Comfortable and Practical Furniture Help Family and Guests to Enjoy the Good Products of the Kitchen

REMEMBER when the dining room was the least popular place in the house? A place filled with huge, garish pieces of furniture which were ugly to look at, impossible to move at cleaning time, and depressing to the spirit and appetite of the family which gathered around the table three times a day? Just such dining rooms were to be found only a few years ago in our homes every where in this country.

The ugly furniture was not so much our fault as the fault of the manufacturers of a generation ago. A Simple But Effective Dining Room

The furniture in this dining room is excellent copies of Early American pieces, now popular in all parts of the country. It is practical, durable, in good taste and modestly priced.

THE dream of every good housekeeper is to have such a well stocked emergency food shelf that no matter who drops in for luncheon or dinner, she will be equal to the occasion. Such a shelf calls for a carefully selected assortment of sea food, meats, vegetables, soups, cereals, marmalades, appetizers and other good things; all of which involve a considerable outlay of the house-keeping money.

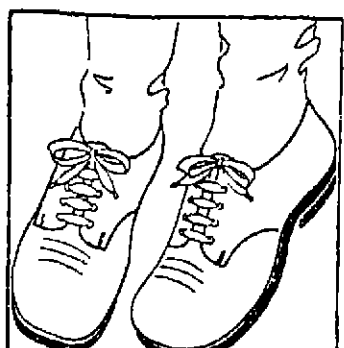

But a small addition of such a shelf need not cost much, and for the average household with its rare demands for an emergency luncheon, the following list of supplies will serve: baked beans, canned salmon and tuna fish, three cans of soup, package cookies and fruit cake, canned spaghetti, sauce, fruit preserves, canned peas. While in the refrigerator there should be: American cheese, cream cheese, something for a salad (either lettuce or romaine), salad dressing, olives, relish; with of course such staples as butter, cream and milk; potatoes, coffee and tea ought always to be on hand, and either makings of biscuits or rolls, to be put quickly together; or the bread box should be well supplied with bread or rolls. One or two canned vegetables on hand give a really wide choice.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Karin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1932 C. M. Co.

MRS. LUCY COTTON THOMAS

Declaring that the allowance of her daughter, Lucetta, was insufficient for the girl's needs, Mrs. Lucy Cotton Thomas, former stage beauty, recently petitioned the New York Surrogate Court to have the amount increased from $3,000 to $3,800 per month. To the ordinary mortal who must live on a lot less than that amount for a whole year, the situation may seem a bit puzzling, but the affidavit of Mrs. Thomas, itemizing her daughter's "absolutely necessary" expenditures for a single month, explains why $3,000 is not enough for a 7-year-old child to live on for four weeks. A few of the items are shown above. The trust fund from which the income is derived was created by Lucetta's grandfather, Charles Thomas, for her father Edward Russell Thomas, noted publisher and sportsman, who died in 1926. Mrs. Thomas has been married and divorced twice since then. Surrogate James A. Delehanty denied Mrs. Thomas' petition for the increased allowance, ruling that Lucetta must balance her budget by cutting some of her expenditures. Mrs. Thomas averred that she cannot help her daughter, as she must struggle along on $20,000 a year herself.

WETS BEATEN

Old-time prohibition oratory accompanied the debate before the vote was taken. Rep. J. J. Freer, Bittinger (D), of Ashland, tried to balk the vote by calling upon the house to table the resolution. His motion lost, 84 to 45.

Rep. W. D. Timmons (D) of Holmes-co., white-haired farmer, delivered an emotional appeal of the type seldom heard in the house in demanding defeat of the resolution.

"If we keep sober," he said, "we can solve all our problems, we can lick the world, I am a sworn foe of the liquor traffic. I hate it and I love to hate it. I hate it as much as Abraham Lincoln hated slavery."

Taking the other side, Rep. Harry W. Frick (D), of Tiffin, assailed legislators and their constituents for being allegedly unreasonable. He explained why he changed his position in two years.

"OUT OF POLITICS" "Many of our legislators are back here this term due to the bigotry of the people back home," said Frick. "Let's have no more political suicides by people who try to straddle the fence as I did years ago and would be forced to do again. The time is here for us to take this question out of politics and let each man and woman go to the polls and scratch their ballot."

In addition to the prohibition fight, the house yesterday passed the DeArmond bill, extending the state relief commission to March 1, 1935, and the Espy-Roberts bill, extending utility and excise tax bond provisions for two years.

By a vote of 27 to 3, the senate passed the Whittemore bill to permit payment of delinquent taxes in 10 annual installments. The bill would give 10 per cent discount for immediate payment.

The senate also passed the Ackerman bill appropriating $50,000 in additional adjusted compensation for soldiers and war veterans. Both will now be sent to the House.

"TIGER" TO SUBMIT NAMES TO FARLEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—John F. Curry, chief of Tammany Hall, will have to submit to James A. Farley the names of any persons whom he desires to be given federal jobs under the incoming Roosevelt administration.

"As chairman of the Democratic committee all appointments in the state of New York will have to be submitted to me," Farley declared.

This development was construed in political circles as a blow at Tammany which was at loggerheads with former Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt when he pushed the removal hearing against Ex-Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, a fallen Tammany idol.

Whether Curry would submit any names to Farley is problematical. It is not expected that Alfred E. Smith, a member of Tammany but not closely aligned with Curry, will ask the Roosevelt administration for any political favors.

BEGG OFFERS PLAN TO MOVE FARMER FROM DIFFICULTIES

(EDITOR'S NOTE In a militant mood, the farmer has strode to the center of the economic stage in Ohio by insisting to receive a share in holding "penny auctions" in their place, and demanding a one-year moratorium. These things occurred in northwest Ohio counties formerly represented in Congress by James T. Begg of Sandusky and Cleveland, now received for the Ohio Farmers' Cooperative association. Begg, former candidate for governor, issues a strong demand for taxation and mortgage reform in the following article prepared for International News Service.)

By Former Congressman James T. Begg.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15.—If serious danger threatens the United States, that danger will not come from the so-called Reds and Communists.

It will come, instead, from the good, solid, substantial citizens, who will be forced to fight to defend their homes against confiscatory taxes.

What else can you anticipate when farmers dangle a noose in a barnyard, threatening a man trying to collect his debts, as they did at recent "penny auctions" in my old congressional district—the fighting thirteenth?

EXPRESSES SYMPATHY I do not approve of those methods.

DOCTOR ASSERTS SCHAAF INJURIES OF LONG STANDING

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The suggestion of Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, that Ernie SchAAF was not killed by the hand of Primo Carnera was substantiated today by medical authority.

That SchAAF's terrific beating by Max Baer at the Chicago stadium last September was, in a measure, responsible for Ernie's poor condition when he went into the ring to fight Carnera is the opinion of Dr. Edward I. Sloan, member of the medical staff of the Illinois athletic commission.

CONFIDENCE SHOWN

DETROIT, Feb. 15.—Twenty-five million of the $1,220,000,000 tied up in Michigan banks when they were closed by edict of the governor yesterday, will be released to depositors tomorrow.

This announcement from the Detroit clearing house association brought a new spirit of optimism to a bewildered state this morning.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—With the Reconstruction Finance Corporation prepared to make loans to Detroit and other Michigan banks provided adequate security is forthcoming, officials today became convinced that the serious banking problem can be met.
